GO TO BUCHTEL & CARDWELL,
WHEN THE WEATHER IS FINE!

Sunshine and Happiness.

The earth is full of sunshine,
When the heart is full of love,
For the light within our spirit
Shines on everything we see;
Then it dims the small-st trifles
For its happiness is deep,
And plea-ure in the ugliest thing
As in the things of price.

There is sunshine in the flowers,
In the sunday forget-me-nots—
There is sunshine in the laughing brook
That whispers with the breeze;
It looks on us from every face,
The homely and the fair;
And the happier the spirit feels,
The more it seeks to share.

Fort Lafayette.

Since Fort Lafayette has become the military prison of the Government in which are confined all State prisoners, information in regard to it will be of interest to the public. We copy from the New York Herald:

"The entrance to the Bay of New York, commonly called the narrows, is protected by forts on either side. On the Staten Island side are forts Tompkins and Richmond—the latter above and commanding the former, the front part of which is washed by the sea. On the opposite, or Long Island side is Fort Hamilton, on a little island the public road intervening between it and the sea. Fort Lafayette is erected on a shoal, about four hundred yards from shore, and nearly in a line between it and Fort Tompkins, with no other means of communication with the shore than by boat.

The shape of the fort is quadrangular, with the angles pointing to the sea and bay and either shore, diamond wise. Facing Fort Hamilton are two tiers of heavy cannon, in bomb proof casements. On this side, which is less protected than the others, appear to be barracks for the troops, and other necessary buildings, the roofs of which are seen rising above the walls of the fort. There are consequently no barbette guns here. This part of the fort, however, is completely commanded by Fort Hamilton, opposite which is the sally-port in one of the angles.

On the other side guns are mounted en barbette, in addition to the heavy casement guns below. In fact, the entire structure, whatever may be said of its capacity as a defence against foreign invasion, seems to be more than sufficiently strong to keep in security as many State prisoners as are likely to be entrusted to the hospitable care of Col. Burke. It would sorely puzzle Jack Sheppard or Burton Trenck themselves, were these worthies alive, and confined in Fort Lafayette, to make their way out of that strong-hold surrounded as they would be by granite walls, with the sea washing their base on every side; and yet there were wiseacres who could seriously advise the sheriff of Kings county to call out the militia of Kings county to reduce the fort, in order that the sheriff might be enabled to arrest Lieutenant-Col. Burke on a warrant of attachment for refusing to obey Judge Garrison's writ of habeas corpus in favor of the Baltimore Police Commissioners, in obedience to his superior, Gen. Scott. The law may not be exactly "an ass," to employ the elegant phraseology of Mr. Rumble, the beadle of the parish, in requiring Mr. Sheriff Campbell to take formal application for the militia to aid him in serving and executing the writ, but individuals who imagine that Fort Lafayette can be reduced by ten times the force that Kings county can bring against it, must have very long ears. Indeed, isolated as Fort Lafayette is, and commanded completely by Fort Hamilton, with the sea open to the Federal fleet, the officer of the day on Saturday at Fort Hamilton seems justified in the remark he made to our reporter, that the entire force of New York city, several times over, would not suffice to get possession of Fort Lafayette and the prisoners confined therein."

PUFF.—What is it?—We are sorry to say that there is too much truth in the following paragraph we copy from a long and able editorial in the Press:

"A peace party, in the North is nothing more than the reserve forces of Mr. Jefferson Davis, both are animated by the same purpose. Mr. Davis wishes the North humiliated; so does the peace party. Mr. Davis wishes the Union forever divided; so does the peace party. Mr. Davis wants Northern blood and Northern gold; the peace party have both to dispose of on reasonable terms. Mr. Davis wishes to win the rebellion; the peace party is laboring to the same end. The only difference seems to be that Davis has armed his Virginia peace party," and stationed it at Manassas, under the command of Beauregard and Johnston, two very distinguished members, we believe, of the peace party in the Northern congress, for the sake of the Union and National Flag and Wood. In California, the peace party is under the Gwin influence. Oregon is divided between Davis and Breckinridge. The secession Democrats and Editor of the Oregon Statesman [illegible] Davis, and the Democratic Press and Palmer [illegible] Breckinridge. Northern and Pacific servants as they are his Southern."

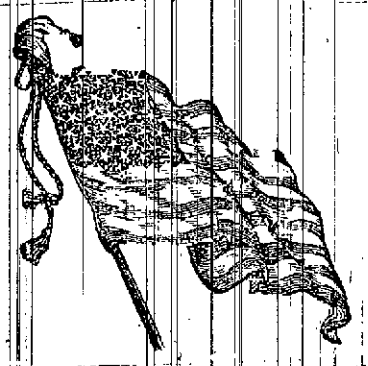
The Daily Oregonian.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.



THURSDAY MORNING, DEC. 5, 1861.

The Oregonian is the only paper in the City which receives the Dispatches.

☞ Some interesting articles will be found on the first and last pages of this paper.

The News.

The Pacific brought us Eastern news to the 27th;—which we have given in the supplement which accompanies this morning's paper. The news is generally favorable. The Confederate Government is removed to Nashville. The capture of Slidell and Mason is approved by all our people and no complaint has yet been made by Lord Lyons. Kentucky is bravely standing up to the Union—she has sent into the field her full quota of troops under the call of 500,000. Price and McCulloch are again marching into Missouri, and it is said that Hunter, with a large force is ready to meet them. Parson Brownlow is at the head of 3,000 troops in Western Virginia. The Union movement in North Carolina is disheartening to the rebels. The Richmond Whig says that it sees nothing in the future but disorder and defeat. The flotilla on the Western waters is ready for service. Pensacola, the Navy Yard and the rebel forts adjacent, have been taken by the blockading force, and Warrington burnt. This was done without assistance from the great fleet on the way to the gulf. Great panic exists in Charleston, Havannah, Memphis, and New Orleans in apprehension of attacks from Federal forces—and many of the inhabitants have put up their goods and prepared ot leave. Our next news must be still more important.

WASHINGTON TERRITORIAL LEGISLATURE.—The members present on Monday went into a temporary organization. Council—H. L. Caples, President pro tem. H. G. Struve, Secretary; W. Fargo, Ass't Secretary; G. W. Jones, Sergeant-at-Arms; S. W. McDonald, Door-keeper. House—Hon. J. N. Chapman, of Pierce county, Speaker pro tem.; N. R. Hathaway, Clerk; S. Sohon, Ass't Clerk; Th. Turnbull Sergeant-at-Arms; H. Clough, Doorkeeper.

There was no quorum in either body, and they adjourned, and will continue to adjourn, for the present, from day to day. Great uncertainty existed in regard to the appearance of absent members. The holding of the Legislative session at Olympia depended upon the Supreme Court.

When Breckinridge escaped in his carriage he muffled himself up and sunk down behind his negro-boy. A capital position for an ambrotypo! John C. Breckinridge running away under the protection of a nigger.

Jeff. Davis' wife wrote to a friend in Washington last June to engage the services of a particular colored woman there, for she wanted her at the white house before the end of July.

One good thing has grown out of the Pennsylvania volunteers voting in Virginia—it has shown that the voters were about equally divided between the democratic and republican parties: both parties for the war and against the faction calling themselves democrats in Oregon.

The returns of Tennessee troops in the field show the number to be about twenty-six thousand. The report has been that it exceeded sixty-five thousand.

The State of Ohio has in store, within sixty miles of Cincinnati, over 18 tons of musket and cannon powder.

We were not able to understand why the Times and Advertiser seemed to be disposed to form a new express line to the injury of Tracy & Co.'s. The last Times does Tracy & Co.'s line justice—by saying that it has always been faithful and prompt in its engagements.

We suggest to the Advertiser the expediency of taking down its rebel flag.

Items from the Mountaineer.

The Mountaineer, while it appreciates the wonderful gold discoveries on Salmon river, very properly says, "all that can be done properly at this time is to prepare for an early start next spring; anything beyond that amounts to a reckless exposure of life."

The same paper states that Lewiston is an important point for a city, and many persons are now staking out lots there, which they mean to improve in the spring. The title to the land is in the Nez Perces tribe.

A project is on foot to open a direct route from the Dalles to Salmon river. A party has made some explorations. They discovered a practicable trail from Grand Ronde to a point six miles above the mouth of Powder river, and twelve miles above Salmon river. The distance from Grand Ronde to this point, on Snake river, is sixty miles. The party sent out first, returned to Grand Ronde to pilot the cattle through, and left Grand Ronde on the 17th, with no apparent obstacle to prevent a speedy trip to Salmon river.

J. W. Knight writes from the Umatilla reservation that there is quite an excitement about the Powder river mines, and that several trains have gone out there, and others will go as soon as the weather will permit.

THE DESCHUTES BRIDGE GONE.—A heavy fall of snow and rain has raised the streams to an unusual height east of the mountains. The Mountaineer says that on Monday "the bridge over the Deschutes, with the keeper's dwelling house, stable and outhouses, were all carried away. Loss, $10,000.

THE VAN NORMAN CHILDREN.—Henry M. Chase communicates to the Walla Walla Statesman that these children were in the custody of the Indians, in the Goose Creek mountains, last winter. Capt. E. D. Pease, with a party from Walla Walla, proposes to go after them about the first of next May.

SILVER ASSAY.—The Times states that information has been received at Walla Walla that the silver ore taken from leads upon Grande Ronde and Burnt rivers, yield silver at the rate of $1,635 45 per ton. If this assay be correct, the mines will be promptly worked; and they are as extensive as desirable.

THE WASHINGTON STATESMAN, the first number of which we have before us, is a well got up sheet. Its advertisements show that the people of Walla Walla mean to sustain it. Here's our ☞ (do ahead!

Mr. and Mrs. Forbes, distinguished performers on the stage—well and favorably known to our citizens—came passengers on the Pacific, bound for Victoria. It is very probable, after fulfilling their engagement there, they may favor this city with a professional visit.

The Walla Walla Statesman says that new mines have been found on the north fork of the Clear Water, which bid fair to rival those of Salmon river in richness.

The Statesman understands that the road to Salmon river is in better condition than some days ago.

The San Francisco Daily Bulletin of Nov. 26th, announces the death of Comm. Julian Bartlett, one of the editors of that paper.

When Beauregard's forces evacuated Munson's hill, they poisoned their meats with strychnine. The fact was discovered, and the wholesale poisoning of our troops prevented. The spirit of secessionism is approached to the infernal.

When Jeff. Davis heard of taking Hatteras forts, he telegraphed that they must be retaken if it cost ten thousand men. The attempt was made but failed. The Hatteras Inlet was the favorite stealing out place of Jeff's. privateers.

The Sacramento Union of the 23d, says that quite an excitement existed in that city in consequence of the apprehension that Samuel H. Brooks, State Comptroller, was on his way to Dixie.

A. J. Davis, Police Sergeant in Charleston, S. C., and a while after a prisoner in Nashville, got a pass to Kentucky and made tracks. He reports that the Union sentiment predominates in the South among the working class of civilians and soldiers who await only an opportunity to give it expression.—There were last few troops in Charleston, 900 in Fort Sumter, and 600 on Sullivan's Island. Provisions were very scarce, wheat from eighteen cents per pound, to pork, and specie at extravagant premium.

A lady from Winchester, Va., says all the secessionists speak of the vital necessity of a secession victory opposite Washington, because nothing else can keep their army together, the rebels being almost destitute of blankets and other articles indispensable to a winter campaign.

THE FLOOD AT OREGON CITY.—Mr. Ingalls, purser of the steamer Express, arrived here at a late hour last night, from whom we received the following items of news. In order to reach this city, he was compelled to come from Oregon City two miles and a half in a small boat on the stage road; from thence to Milwaukie on foot; from thence he crossed the slough in a boat, after which he obtained a horse and came down to the ferry opposite this city.

He gives the following as some of the damages sustained at Oregon City by the flood:

The "McLoughlin" and "Island" Mills were both swept off—the former containing 2,000 and the latter 2,500 sacks flour.

Moore & Marshall's foundry, valued at between $7,000 and $8,000.

The "Oregon House," a well-known hotel on the river bank, five dwelling houses on the bottom north of the town, and the bridge to the Island, were carried off.

The water is now on Main street, and the alarmed citizens are making arrangements to move from their houses to better places of security.

There was great confusion and anxiety at Linn village, on the opposite side of the river. Seven dwelling houses have been carried off from the village, with all their furniture and stores—generally the property of worthy mechanics, who with their families are in great distress.

But the greatest amount of one loss at Linn City is the Breakwater, which forms the basin above the falls, which cannot be restored at a less cost than $30,000.

CHARLESTON BLOCKADE.—A letter from an officer of the Roanoke says—"Charleston is now effectually blockaded, almost waterproof. The Roanoke lies in the middle, and on each side are the Wandalia and steamer Flag—the former guarding the northern and the latter the southern one. We are about five miles from Fort Sumter, lying at anchor on thirty feet of water. This is as near as we can go in, on account of the bar. The steamer Atlantic has arrived last night, and will take part in blockading the place.

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

THE FRESHET AND ITS EFFECTS.—The river is higher at the present time than ever before known to the oldest residents. The losses and inconveniences occasioned by it as unprecedented as they are not yet unknown, but no doubt great damage has been sustained along the banks of the river. Several frame houses and a large quantity of flour (supposed to come from the wreck of the Island and McLoughlin mills, at Oregon City,) were seen floating down yesterday. A plain, containing a large quantity of hay, was also seen. Capt Turner, of the Pioneer, informs us that while coming up yesterday, a pilot house was observed going down, it is supposed to have been the property of the Upper Willamette steamboat. Very probable. The greatest loss sustained by any of our citizens yesterday, was the sweeping away of the wharf recently erected between Washington and Alder streets. The structure measured 200 feet in length by 50 wide. It went off with a crash about noon. Loss between eight and nine thousand dollars, which mostly falls on Messrs Hull, Masters, Shipley, Kingsley and Spencer. Portions of Smith's Wharf, and the rear portion of the Gold Exchange saloon, were also carried away.

CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Waite, after delivering a moral lecture to Rob't Suther and convicted, the day previous for the crime of robbery, fined him a thousand dollars and cost of suit. The remainder of the day was occupied in hearing motions and demurrers. The Court will meet again this morning for the purpose of reading and signing the records; after which the Court will adjourn for this term.

REMOVAL OF THE POST OFFICE.—In consequence of the danger to the new building in which the post office is located, Mr Davis has wisely removed the office temporarily to the 2d story of Seymour & Joynt's brick building, Front street.

We are indebted to Tracy & Co for repeated favors in furnishing us exchanges and news in advance of the mails. We are also indebted to Wells, Fargo & Co for newspaper favors.

RUNAWAYS.—In addition to the excitement created yesterday by the freshet, several horses stabled to vehicles stampeded. No damage done.

FOR VICTORIA.—The steamer Pacific will sail for Victoria at noon to day.

THE RISE.—The river at this point rose yesterday at the rate of one inch per hour.

U.S. DISTRICT COURT.—The trial of the Portland Levee case will be commenced in this Court to day.

INCIDENTS OF THE FLOOD.—Yesterday a good sized rooster was observed passing the city on a bunch of hay and sheaf oats. As he floated majestically onward "Chanticleer would for a moment calmly survey the surrounding objects, and then pick away at the oats as coolly as in his native barnyard. He was after wards gallantly rescued by a boy with a small boat, who sold his roostership for five dollars. Must be game in that chicken.

We learn that the family occupying the house at the end of the bridge opposite this city, were rescued by persons in a small boat, who heard their cries for assistance. A hole was cut through the roof of the building and the family taken out and conveyed to a place of safety.

Last evening, just at dark, a large building floated by. Probably from Oregon City. A scow containing several hundred boxes of apples, was caught by some one, but the rope not being strong enough, broke, and away it went on down.

At Oregon City, after the bridge which spanned the chasm separating the Island Mills from the shore, had been carried away the family of A. J. Chapman was rescued by persons who went to them in a small boat.

Dr The Medical and Surgical Institute of Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY is duly secured in a position which places it as well as its proprietor far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In fact, so conclusive is the superiority of care flowing from the practitioners in this Department of medical science and those occupying other branches equally high, that among the physicians of this city Dr Czapkay has the unqualified confidence and esteem of all. Dr Czapkay has [illegible] which the Philadelphia College of Medicine conferred him with a Diploma and the honorary Fellowship, [illegible] Selecting this as his field of operation although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth and City Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary Army, he extended his practice to the cure of chronic and private diseases in which he has become so great an expert that he is now regarded as the leading physician in this branch of his profession throughout the United States and his patients are numerous. The Institute is published as a matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. OREGON MINES, CLIMATE, &c.—In a letter to the S. F. Herald, describing these mines, the writer says, that at Elk City, "the heat, during the day is extreme, making one perspire freely doing nothing," and the water in the streams is warm but the nights are very cold, making it necessary to have plenty of blankets, or else keep up a rousing fire.

On the 24th, 25th and 27th of July I left water in a cup over night, in the morning it was frozen over. A large pile I had for lying on the back when I left in mines, was frozen so stiff, that I had to hold it to the fire before it would bend."

Of the extent of the mines he writes:—"These mines are now that gold exists all through the Blue Mountains is farmas prospected, is certain; and the further South from Oro Fino the coarser is the gold and the easier to be got at. Gold mines are being found on Burnt River, Umatilla and Malheur all of which are a long ways south of the Nez Perces, and not so far away from Oakland. So I would advise all who have made up their minds to try their fortunes in the spring, not to be in a hurry, for there is room enough for all in the South Fork mines and better diggings being found all the time."

James B. Clay, the renegade son of "the gallant Harry," was captured by a boy of not over sixteen! Although alone in a buggy, he was armed with two double shot guns and two navy revolvers. But the boy overawed him, and he gave up without resistance.
